

David Mader was nominated, in May 2014, to serve as the Controller for the Office of Management & Budget (OMB). Prior to his current position Mr. Mader was Senior Vice President of Booz Allen Hamilton where he led the firm's business in support of U.S. Department of Treasury, Freddie Mac, and Fannie Mae, as well the Executive Office of the President, Congress, OMB, Office of Personnel Management, General Services Administration, and Government Accountability Office.

Mr. Mader is a lecturer for the Change Management Advanced Practitioner program at Georgetown University's McDonough School of Business. He is also the recipient of both the Distinguished and Meritorious President Rank Award the Treasury Secretary's Honor Award.

Mr. Mader formerly served as an Assistant Deputy Commissioner for the IRS, and was part of a team that researched techniques for effecting real change in government.

Mr. Mader holds a B.S. degree in political science from Mount St. Mary's University and is a Fellow with the National Academy of Public Administration mid-career program for government executives.