

Ann currently serves as the Deputy Chief Information Officer (CIO) at the US Department of Education (ED). In concert with the CIO, Ann manages the daily operations of the Office of the Chief Information Officer (OCIO) and provides agency-wide leadership to drive technology innovation and modernization. She serves as a principal advisor to the CIO and ED leadership with respect to the effective use of IT to support, secure and enable the Department's mission and business processes.

Ann has over 20 years of experience across multiple IT disciplines including enterprise architecture, policy and planning, cybersecurity, systems design and engineering, and operations. She has successfully led diverse and cross-functional teams to solve complex IT challenges spanning retail, financial, defense, and civilian agency environments.