

Chuck Grindle, Ph.D. (Colonel, retired, U.S. Army) is an Information Scientist who joined Amazon Web Services in March of 2020 as an Executive Government Advisor. Chuck specializes in information security, policy and strategy. Chuck previously served as Kentucky's Chief Information Officer. Chuck graduated from Washington and Jefferson College and was commissioned into the Field Artillery. He earned his Masters and Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh's School of Information Science and holds a second Master's Degree from the U.S. Army War College. In addition to holding key military positions in information technology, he has taught academic courses on a variety of subjects including security issues and cyber operations.