

Gregory C. Allen is the Chief of Strategy and Communications at the Department of Defense Joint Artificial Intelligence Center (JAIC). At the JAIC, Mr. Allen advises on development and implementation of the DoD AI Strategy and is responsible for the JAIC's industry and academic engagement, market research, legislative affairs, and public affairs efforts.

Before joining the JAIC, Mr. Allen was an Adjunct Senior Fellow at the Center for a New American Security (CNAS) where he was the author or co-author of seven reports on AI and national security policy issues.

Earlier, Mr. Allen served as Senior Manager of Market Strategy at Blue Origin, a commercial space launch services provider, and was a Senior Project Manager at Avascent, a strategy consulting firm. Mr. Allen holds Master of Public Policy and Master of Business Administration degrees from Harvard Kennedy School of Government and Harvard Business School.