

Harry F. Lee

Assistant Commissioner - Clients and Markets
Technology Transformation Services
Federal Acquisition Service
U.S. General Services Administration

Mr. Harry Lee is the Assistant Commissioner of the Office of Clients and Markets at the Technology Transformation Services (TTS) within the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA). The Office of Clients and Markets includes the IT Modernization Centers of Excellence (CoE), Presidential Innovation Fellows (PIF), 18F, and the TTS Outreach Team. In this role, his focus is to transform how TTS partner agencies in the federal government use technology to improve the lives of the public and public servants.

Mr. Lee joined GSA in September 2019 from the NCR Corporation where he was the Vice President of Professional Services focused on consumer-oriented solutions for global retail customers. Prior to NCR, he was the Vice President of Consulting Services at Teradata with a focus on enterprise-level data and analytic solutions for Global 500 firms across the Americas. Prior to Teradata, Mr. Lee was a Managing Director at PwC Consulting specializing in the use of emerging technologies to solve complex, enterprise-level challenges.

Mr. Lee earned his Bachelor of Business Administration in Accounting and Management Information Systems from the University of Georgia.
