Johnnie Konstantas
Senior Director, Security Product Management
Oracle Cloud

As Sr. Director, Security Product Management, in Oracle Cloud Infrastructure (OCI), Johnnie and her team help customers understand how to securely deploy and operate in Oracle Cloud. She has spent more than 20 years bringing security products and technologies to market, most recently for Microsoft's Enterprise Cybersecurity Group. She has in prior roles led product, business development and marketing for security industry leaders including Gigamon, Juniper Networks, Varonis and Check Point software. In earlier years, she designed cellular infrastructure networks as a CDMA engineer for Motorola Inc. A frequent speaker, blogger, and contributing author, Johnnie's work has been featured in trade and business press as well as leading security conferences.

Konstantas holds a BS in Electrical Engineering from the University of Maryland College Park.
