

Jonathan Wood is a Senior Director within Intel's Next Generation and Standards group responsible for Business Development and Strategic Partnerships for 5G and Connected Compute (AI, Media).

Jonathan joined Intel in 2013 via an acquisition of a Software company focused on API management and Service Orchestration for Communication Networks, by Intel's Software Group

Earlier in his career, Jonathan has spent more than two decades in various management positions at GEC Siemens, Lucent Technologies, Philips Electronics and Palm Source where his responsibilities spanned a range of Business, M&A, Technical Marketing positions for wireless, internet, cloud and semiconductors.

Always on the very edge of leading and disruptive technologies, Jonathan is an evangelist for Intel 5G and Data Centric Strategy.