

With more than 35 years in the IT industry, Mike McGraw has been with Flexera as a Business Value Advisor for the past five years. Prior to Flexera, he served in senior IT leadership roles spanning across multiple Fortune 100 companies, in varying industries, in key functions such as Application Development, Enterprise Architecture and IT Strategy. Developing ITAM/SAM/ITSM program strategies and roadmaps, business case development and delivering IT cost savings through effective Technology management are a few of his areas of expertise. Mike brings unparalleled value to Flexera's goals of helping organizations maximizing business value for organizations' and their technology investments.